Benefactors

Benefactors are foundations, governments, IGO's, businesses, development agencies, academia or philanthropic foundations supporting the objectives of the GC3B and help promote solutions to global, regional and local cyber capacity building challenges in their respective areas of expertise.

This first edition of the GC3B would not be possible without the dedicated and generous support of these benefactors through their financial contribution or in-kind services.

Audience and Participants

The GC3B will bring together ministerial-level decision-makers, senior working-level representatives from government agencies, and experts from across the public sector, private sector, academia, and civil society. The conference will draw participants and experts from all sectors and regions to recognize the different contexts in which CCB takes place. The GC3B will promote participation from low- and middle-income countries and serve as a platform for them to shape sustainable, inclusive, and human-centric cyber capacity building initiatives and to incorporate cyber resilience in the broader development agenda in-line with their perspectives, needs, and capabilities.
